DEPARTMENT WELCOMES PHONOLOGIST GAŠPER BEGUŠ TO OUR FACULTY

Submitted by Kirby A Conrod on March 29, 2018 - 10:20am

It is our pleasure to welcome a new member to our department this coming fall. Gašper Beguš is receiving his PhD from Harvard University this spring, completing his dissertation on phonological typology. He will be joining UW Linguistics as a phonologist. His interests include phonology, phonetics, and historical linguistics. We are excited to work with Gašper, and look forward to welcoming him in the fall of 2018.
